Storm Causes Power Failure

The Coast Electric Company as well as the Mississippi Power Company employees worked Sunday afternoon in a driving rain and an electrical storm to restore service to customers after power failure occurred at approximotely 4:15 p.m. Customers were reportedly without service one hour and forty minutes.

Jim Fillingame, an engineer with Coast Electric Company, said a number of trees went down during the storm in the vicinity of Blue Meadow Road and along the Old Spanish Trail. He also reported that damage to the power equipment was considerable. At least one tree went down on Dunbar Avenue in the yard of Mro. Warren

Drag Racing

Following reports of night drag races in the Buffer Zone at MTF, Hancock County Deputy Sheriff Robort Tartavoulle, Highway Patrolman James Woodfin, Game Warden C. J. Cameron and three Harrison County Deputy Sheriffs visited the area about 10:30 p.m. Monday night.

The officers found about 200 cars in the vicinity area containing dragsters and spectators. The cars were from Hancock, Harrison, Pearl River, Covington, Stone, Jackson and Forest counties plus some from

The racing was at the cross-roads of Texas Flat and Blenville Road, both Hancock County backtop roads. The crossroad accommodated eight cars at a time, two in each of four directions for the one-fourth mile race against time. Some cars negotiated the quarter mile in eleven seconds which is considered fast time. All racing cars were apparently in good condition. Approximately 40 drivers were taken in custody and brought to the Hancock County Court House. After parents of the young men arrived they were released to their custody.

natural gas eliminates air polhirlon chined by gasoline powdred motor vehicles.

This is the first Gulf-state area motor pool to participate in GSA°B nationwide project to convert 1,200 of its vehicles to the system by the end of the year. Civilian and military agenties of the Federal Governmenti operate approximately 325.000 vehicles on the roads and streets of the United Scates, most of them are purchased through the General Services Administration. GSA actually operates more than 51,000 vehicles in its own fleet.

Administrator of General Services Robert L. Kunzig is responsible for much of the ground work in an effort to find new ways to eliminate air pollution. He noted a report issued by the Los Angeles County Air Pollution Control District stating that gasolins-powered motor vehicles are responsible for 87 percent of the contaminants in the air in Los Angeles County, a heavy smog area. Administrator Kunzig contacted Commissioner Robert M. O'Mahoney of GSA's Transportation and Communic corion Services to see what could be done about reducing exhaust pollutants from Government vehicles. The investigation led to dual-fuel tests. The Federal Government's first dual-fuel experiment last fall used 12 vehicles in its motor pool at the Veterans Administration Hospital in Los Angeles. The dual-fuel system enables drivers to switch at any time from regular gasoline to clean-burning natural

In Mississippi the experiment will be conducted for approximately three years on 40 vehicles, including sedans. pickup trucks, 1-1/2 ton trucks, buses and a tractor trailer. "If successful," Kunzig s a i d, many of the cars on our streets could be equipped with dual-fuel systems and lead to the elimination of much of the air pollution that plagues our Indications from dual-fuel experiments are that exhaust pollutants are reduced by 90 per cent, and from a stand point of economy the natural gas is about 40 percent less per mile. Spark plugs and oil life are more than doubled!

pressor is located. They were alco taken to the Transportation Building to watch a demonstration of a vehicle being refueled from the "Tube Bank". The compressed gas storage facility, mounted on a trailer, holds 100,000 cubic feet of compressed natural gas at a maximum pressure of 6,000 pounds per square inch. Refueling can be done as quickly as with gasoline. The huge storage tubes are 28 feet long and ten inches in diameter and the "Tube Bank" stores 24 such tubes.

From a stand-point of safety, natural gas is said by insurance underwriters and fire protection officials to be as safe or safer than conventional gasoline operated vehicles. Natural gas is lighter than air, in case of a leak it rices and dissipates harmlessly into the atmosphere. Heavier than air fuels puddle on the ground and present a potential explosion hazard. Of value in control of air pollution vehicles on a dualfuel system could be switches to natural gas at stop-and-go speeds in heavy traffic and congested urban cages. The Dyprem does not regular olgalficant engine modification aind io not expensive. Compressed natural gas for the system is stored in pressurized tanks approved by the government, these tanks are located in or on the vehicles and a fuel line connects the tanks to regulators installed in the engine compartment of the automobile. The regulators reduce the pressure of the natural gas before it enters a gas-air mixer. Included is an air-filter which replaces the usual air cleaner. A control cable changes the setting in the gas-air mixer to allow either natural gas or gasoline to operate inter-changeably. The estimated cost for this equipment on a mass production basis is approximately $300 per vehicle. Hopefully, the dual-fuel operated vehicles such as buses and taxi cabs, fleet operated delivery services and moving and transportation vans can go a long way toward eliminating exhaust caused air pollution.

The dual-fuel vehicles being tested at the MTF are prominent because of large and attractive decals with a green back ground on which an arrow, design and a circled GSA device make identification of the vehicle readily apparent.

Hospitality concluded the demonstration and guests enjoyed a coffee service together with a huge red velvet sheet were shown and guests were cake heavily iced and decorated taken in air-conditioned buses with a faccimile of the dual-

From The Editor

The purpose of letters to the editor are for the general public of the community to have their say as to problems and achievements they see as individuals.

Basically it gives the people voice in the community. Views expressed in this column are not necessarily views of this newspaper. They stand on their num merit.

A press without regard to views of others is in reality NOT A "REF PRESS.

Editor, Sea Coast Echo:

The way I understand the operation of Upturn, F.H.A. and a couple of other government home loan Co. If you have a home or a place to live, you can borrow money to fix it up to standards. If you have no home, you don't need one. It's sad to know how hard the many poor men and vomen with large families, who for lots of years have been trying to real build or buy a decent, reacomade place to live. The rod tops have turned out to be red, red

Next, the Cleary jrb. I pare to admit they have does faces in a same conser I was told they were only suppose to clean what the harricame had done. Yet I see vacant lots which have not been hurt by the storm in any way being cleamed.

These lots have had trash and trees on them for the forty four years I've been here. We do need them cleaned. We also need our yards cleaned, Two cleanup crews have been in my methor's yard and a Cil a tres tying down on the ground from the storm. Who do pe go to, for answers to our questions? Who will help the poor, poor people with their problems. ALVINA CHEROLES

As a member of the Small Business Administration, I would appreciate your printing this thank you note composople of Bay St. Louis. From September, 2 1969 through May of 1970, the Small Business Administration operated a disaster office in Bay St. Louis. From the beginning we had the complete ocaperation of all the people in your fine city. The Bay Royal Apartments furnished us with housing thus eliminating the long trip from Gulfport. The Hospital allowed us to eat in its cafeterin and its doctors took care of our employees when they vero sich, General Electric furnished us desks, typewriters and helped us in many other vays. The banks all helped in every way possible. Galf National Bank allowed us office space in their Book. Wo were treated royally by the entire show. There were many other people and firms to whom we

MRS. CARRIE AND MR. STACY HARRINGTON GET THEIR O.K. USED OLDSMOBILE FROM LAMAR-LANE SALESMAN HERB BARON.

My old car was about gone and I needed some good transportation at a price I could afford. I tried several times but was unsuccessful until a friend of mine sent me to salesman Herb Baron of Lamar-Lane Chevrolet. He took real good care of me, got me real good financing and we are very thankful to have our fine car. I want to recommend Herb Baron of Lamar-Lane Chevrolet to all of my friends in need of a car, whether it be a O.K. used car or a new Chevy. Thinking about buying a new car or truck, visit Lamar-Lane Chevrolet and ask for salesman Herb Baron, he could save you many dollars. LAMAR-LANE CHEVROLET, INC.

Every Monday morning at 10 a.m. Mrs. Mildred Means, Bookmobile librarian will bring the bookmobile to the Waveland School playground where the recroation program is conducted. The scheduled visits sorve a two-fold purpose for children participating in the program.

The Story Time sessions provide, as well as a "quiet time" activity, an opportunity for literary enrichment. Mrs. Moans can offer through library facilities a wide variety of reading material appropriate to the different age groups on the playground. One-act plays for young people will be introduced, to lead to dramatics and improvisations sessions in which all the children can participate.

It was unusual to see a 50 lb. drumfish swimming in shallow water just south of the Yacht Club. Among those watching it were Don Coffor and son , Junior. They went home, got a pirouge and captured it for the fun of it. They later returned it to the water. Some drum and a real story. Thanks

The sand beach just under the Bayou LaCroix bridge on the Kiln Road is getting more popular every day. On the weekend hundreds of swimmers skilers, etc., enjoy this spot camping and picnicing. In other words, enjoying sports. The beach was made when the new bridge was built. Bayou La Croix is an excellent fishing place when conditions are right.

The Dan Haggertys, Sr. and Jr. with Pat and Eileen spent Sunday with the Dec Elliotts.

Bay St. Louis beaches and other places will be busy with out of town guests over for the 4th of July. Swimming, fishing, and skiing will head the list of sports with house parties running a close second. Bon fires on the beach will be seen quite a distance. A tired but happy bunch will return home afterwards.

A PUBLIC SERVICE TO HANCOCK COUNTY

Shown on the top right in figure 1 is the door door in boylove as dead to the signal of the signal o County to govern approximately 17,500 people. Red bee 0881 ai beforigine sew enclouries sidf come down through the years with only minor changes, adding new positions as opportunity bereffe.

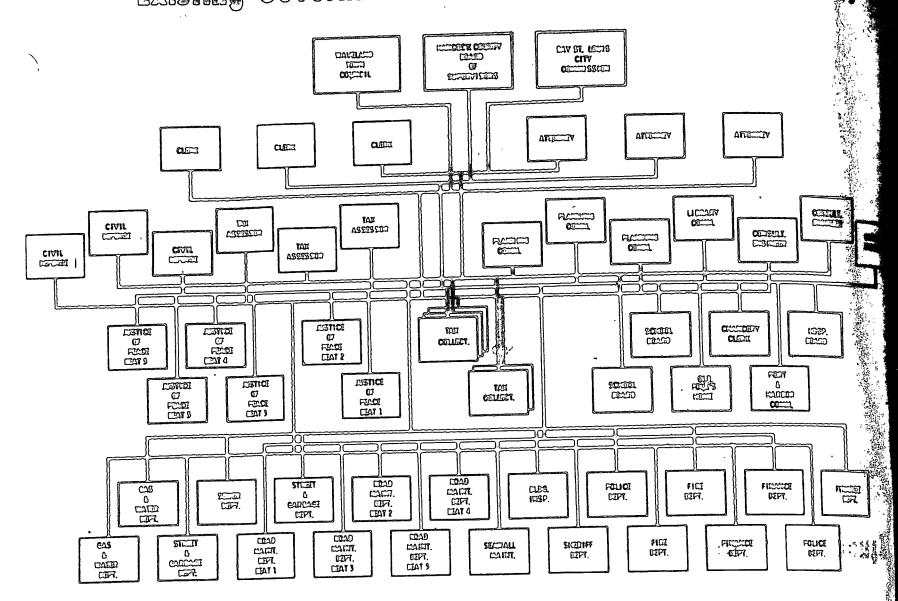

Mote the overlop and duplication in every area.

Bearing in mind the service we presently got from this organization in the fields of education, road maintenance, low onforcement ofc. and tho projected population growth of the country, if is obvious that something must be done to modernizo our systom.

The concept in Figure II was developed by the General Electric Company in 18's study on Hancock County. This concept has already been successfully implemented in many Southern Communities.

The elected officials function as a board of directors in a large coroporation, with a bounded, professional administration responsible for day to day management. With fewer employers, responsibility and authority are clear cut, and attractive salaries can be offered, assuring capable administrative personnel.
